Press release

Following the successful launch of the EL-Skyport Transmitter Plus HS for Canon® and Nikon® – with Sony® to follow soon, Elinchrom now introduces the new EL-Skyport Plus System.

The new EL-Skyport Plus system is ergonomically designed, compact and robust, using easily available AA batteries. It offers an extended range of up to 200 m (656 feet), triggering any flash and controlling the power of all Skyport enabled Elinchrom flash units. With eight individual frequencies and the choice of standard and speed protocols, there are 16 frequency options, each having four groups.

The EL-Skyport Transmitter Plus is compatible with almost every camera and offers a swivel function for optimum orientation.

The EL-Skyport Receiver Plus will trigger almost every flash system and includes also a built in Hot Shoe to trigger speedlights, whilst enabling them also to be conveniently mounted onto a lighting stand. When used in conjunction with a Skyport HS Plus Transmitter, most Speedlights set at full power can also be incorporated into Hi-Sync applications (using high shutter sync speeds to freeze motion and control ambient light).

The Elinchrom Skyport Plus system is retro compatible with the existing Skyport Speed system, and forward compatible to the additional frequencies offered by the latest Elinchrom ELB and ELC units.
